

THE BEAUTIFUL MOMENT PHOTOGRAPHY

Weddings

hello...

Welcome to The Beautiful Moment Photography. Tired of the corporate grind and having a creative itch to scratch, Josh decided to go head first into the world of photography. We are now a team of three! Wedding photography affords us the opportunity to document human emotion, relationships, the joy and the tears and everything in between. That was the spark that drives us. As a team, we treasure things that are genuine and real. Emotions that are raw and unfettered.

We are drawn to beautiful light and mysterious shadow and seek to know our couples a little bit deeper so we can shoot each engagement with a lot more with soul. If you feel we could be a good fit for your special day, We would love to sit down with you and learn more about your amazing wedding plan.

Thank you for dropping by and we wish each of you the very best in the adventure called life.

josh

moving from a life in the corporate world, Josh (like the rest of his team) decided to plunge head first into the world of wedding photography. His inspirations are his family, nature (especially sunsets), and movies (shedding a tear or two in the cinema is commonplace). Photographically speaking, Josh gravitates towards a slightly more classical style. Capturing emotions and bringing these emotions out through the usage of natural light and focusing on human interaction is his joy and what he seeks to do on a wedding day.

jo

taking the leap from her previous job as a flight attendant of 13 years, Jo dove into the world of photography with her natural curiosity and passion for learning. She first started her journey with an apprenticeship with 'The Beautiful Moment Photography' since 2014 and has never looked back. Her photography focuses largely on capturing the beauty of human connections, with the use of dramatic shadows to emphasize raw, honest emotions.

tiff

began her journey in wedding photography after attending a wedding photography workshop back in 2014. Since then, despite her busy schedule as an operating theatre nurse and a mother, weddings have always been part of her heart as she is passionate about discovering and capturing the human connection, particularly relationships. The honesty and sincerity of people in love inspired her to document real and genuine connections through photographs. She aims to create memories for you, with the essence of natural light, connecting and evoking emotions so you shall always remember and re-live the moment when you look back at the photos.
